Mai: The Olympics are over. It was so exciting for me to watch the Olympic games.

Tom: Which sports event did you like best?

Mai: Umm... That's a difficult question. I liked "eventing".

Tom: Eventing? What is that? I've never heard of such a sport.

Mai: ①(called / by / it / everyone / is / "Sogo bajutsu"). It is a sport which involves playing with a horse. The players take part in three styles of race. In Japan, it is a minority sport, but in Europe, it is a major sport. For this reason, most Japanese players are based in Europe.

Tom: I see. Because of the Olympics, we can know about such minority sports.

Mai: I agree. The Olympics gives us a chance to know about such new sports. However, it is hard to join the Olympic games.

Tom: ②Why is it hard?

Mai: First, the athletes have to get tickets for entry the Olympics. Then, they have to practice hard to get a gold medal in the Olympics, players must practice hard. Finally, they have to go abroad to compete with other international players. For this reason, it is difficult to get a gold medal.

Tom: That is too bad! When I watched the Olympic games on TV, I just enjoyed the sports. I never thought about how much effort and time is needed to get a gold medal.

Mai: We often judge players by the number of medals won, but we have to care about their hard work.

Tom: After talking with you, I now realize how much hard work is needed to win a single gold medal.

Mai: Yes, it seems like a very big and exciting sports festival, but there are many other points to think about.

Tom: By the way, I'm looking forward to the next Olympics. 3

Mai: It will be held in Los Angeles, America.

Tom: Oh, America is my home country. I am so excited! When will it be held?

Mai: After 3 years, it will be held in 2028, in August.

Tom: In 2028, I will be 20 years old. My birthday is August 23rd.

Mai: And mine is October 4th, so I will be 19.

Tom: Let's hope that we can go to Los Angeles and watch the Olympics together!

【8】次の英文を読み、各問いに答えなさい。

One day, when my husband and I were getting off the train at Osaka station, suddenly a foreigner standing on the platform spoke to us. We couldn't understand her because she spoke so fast. So, I said to her, "Could you say that again?". I was very surprised because I had asked her in English but she didn't seem to understand me. "Was my English so hard to understand?" I wondered. My husband tried to make himself understood to the stranger in broken English using some gestures. But the girl (①) didn't understand us. Finally, we found out that she was not an English speaker at all.

The girl showed us her smartphone, and we found out that she wanted to go to the central gate of Osaka station. ②I couldn't speak anymore because I was afraid I wouldn't be understood. My husband could not speak her language, but he tried to show her the way, using gestures, as hard as he could. Finally, we took her to the gate.

③ (\mathcal{T} foreign / \mathcal{I} is / \mathcal{T} language / \mathcal{I} English / \mathcal{T} a / \mathcal{T} taught / \mathcal{T} as) in our school. We see and hear a lot of English words on signboards and public transports every day. Sometimes we come across Korean or Chinese in public places too. But mainly these announcements are in English. So, we thought that the woman could use English when we tried to help her. ④We were wrong. Of course, English is not the only foreign language.

⑤I think it is very important to study English, but it has become equally important to learn other languages, too. Through this experience, I learned that sometimes feelings are more important than words when communicating with others.

platform (駅の)プラットホーム
make *one*self understood 自分の意思を相手に通じさせる
stranger 見知らぬ人
broken English 不完全な英語
gestures 身ぶり、手ぶり、ジェスチャー
central 中央の
transports 乗り物
